SUMMARY

Over 10 years of experience in teaching Arabic. I have read many books and educational articles in this process, participated in many workshops and courses, I also delivered many courses and workshops on education, technology and management leadership. I developed my concepts and philosophy of education and leadership on a continuous basis and I have excellent ability to communicate with my students, colleagues and parents. Creative thinking and excellent computing abilities; this helps me to design different activities, I am also quick to learn and adapt to new curricula and places. I love my profession and exert all my energy, try to spread positive thinking around me and always strive for excellence and self-development.
